this morning by George Noble, state highway commissioner, his department will make distribution to the various counties and cities of the first class in the state, the state highway construction fund collected for the month of July by his department, and payments for August, September and October will follow a few days later.

The fund comes from the state automobile license tax. From the amount collected on each automobile tag the department retains ten per cent, 25 per cent goes to the city and the remaining 65 per cent goes into the state highway construction fund. This automobile fund will be used for nothing else but the maintenance of roads after they are built.

"Owing to the big rush of business," said Commissioner Noble, "we are behind in this work and our book-keeper will not be able to make up the separate apportionments for two or three days for the month of July."

Yeggs Make Water Haul.

Coalgate, Okla., Oct. 11.—The safe in the local postoffice was blown open early Saturday morning by yeggs, who entered the building through a rear window. A heavy charge of nitro-glycerine was used in wrecking the safe. The charge blew a huge hole in the floor and broke plate glass in front of the building. The yeggs were frightened away before they secured anything of value.

Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a bad bronchial cough. I felt its beneficial effect immediately and before I had finished the bottle I was cured. I never tire of recommending this remedy to my friends," writes Mrs. William Bright, Ft. Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere.

When Baby Has the Croup

When a mother is awakened from sound sleep to find her child who has gone to bed apparently in the best of health struggling for breath, she is naturally alarmed. Yet if she can keep her presence of mind and give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy every ten minutes until vomiting is produced, quick relief will follow and the child will drop to sleep to awaken in the morning as well as ever. This remedy has been in use for many years with uniform success. Obtainable everywhere.

Presently the world will be asking, "Why is a diplomat?"

Apparently we are going to have a summer if it takes all winter.

CHOCTAWS AND CHICKASAWS IN SESSION NAME DELEGATES TO REPRESENT THEM — DEMAND FUND DISTRIBUTION.

Tuskahoma, Okla., Oct. 9.—Adopting resolutions which demand a per capita distribution of all tribal funds now in the United States treasury and the immediate adoption of a policy for the disposal of coal and asphalt deposits belonging to the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations and naming two delegates to represent the tribe during the forthcoming session of congress, the Choctaw senate, in sessions just concluded at Tuskahoma, forecast for the coming winter the most strenuous fight yet made for a final settlement of tribal affairs.

It was the first session of the Choctaw senate since October, 1911. Seven members out of the twelve, just enough for a quorum, attended. The senate was presided over by G. W. Dukes of Tallhima, a former principal chief of the tribe. Victor M. Locke of Antlers, present chief, had called the meeting and it was upon his recommendation, in formal message, that the senate adopted the resolutions and named delegates to Washington.

The delegates selected by the senate are: Peter J. Hudson of Tuskahoma, a full-blood Choctaw, and Dr. J. H. Miller of Antlers, an intermarried citizen.

Adopt Resolutions.

The resolutions in full are as follows:

"We, the committee composed of members of the Choctaw senate, appointed by the president of the senate to consider and report on the message of the principal chief of the Choctaw nation, do hereby submit the following report:

"All persons entitled to share in the distribution of Choctaw property are now enrolled as citizens of the Choctaw nation. We hold that our rolls of citizenship have been closed finally in compliance with the terms of the supplemental agreement of July 1, 1902, and in compliance with the provisions of the act of congress of April 26, 1906; and we insist that the United States government should abide by the agreement made with us and should not permit the rolls to be reopened.

"We are opposed to the removal of restrictions on the alienation of land by the secretary of the interior except in extreme cases where the physical condition of the allottee makes it necessary to sell a part of his or her allotment to provide proper care and subsistence. The present system of removing restrictions of able-bodied allottees and keeping the money derived from the sale of such allottees' land in the hands of the Indian agent to be paid the allottee in monthly installments is unsatisfactory. The system of paying able-bodied allottees by monthly installments and supervising the purchase of all personal property and the retention by the government of the control of such personal property is humiliating to the Indians who have confidence in their own ability. This present system has a tendency to and does divest many Indians of all spirit of self-reliance. Eventually, under this system, most of the lands of the individual Indians will be sold and the proceeds derived therefrom paid out in such manner that the Indians will have acquired the habit of absolute dependence. Such a system does not prepare the Indians for good citizenship. The system should be changed.

"It is the sense of your committee that the tribal school system should be continued, at least for the present.

Would Sell Deposits.

"The United States should sell the coal and asphalt deposits belonging to the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations and distribute the proceeds among the enrolled members of both tribes as provided for in the supplemental agreement of 1902. If the government does not want to sell the coal and asphalt deposits, provision should be made for the United States to take said deposits at not less than the appraised value. If the government declines to sell the coal and asphalt in accordance with the last agreement between the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations and the United States, and declines to sell the coal and asphalt in accordance with the last agreement between the Choctaw and Chickasaw nations and the United States and declines to pursue a definite policy in regard to this prop-

RESTRICTION OF LIQUOR IN GERMANY

NO DRINKS ALLOWED SOLD AFTER NINE O'CLOCK P. M. — DRASTIC RESTRICTIONS THROW DISTILLERS IN DESPAIR.

Berlin, Oct. 11.—The restrictions regarding the sale of distilled liquors in Greater Berlin, which were proposed in August by Police President Von Jagow to the government authorities, have gone into effect. They are so drastic that landlords and distillers are in despair, and the general public feels that its indulgence in "schnaps" and similar drinks is to be very largely curtailed.

The rules now laid down forbid the sale of distilled liquor except between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m.—the sale in restaurants having women waitresses and bar maids—the sale in "automatic" restaurants and the sale to drunken persons. The liquor may be sold only for cash, and must be drunk on the premises.

Only casual examination of the new rules does not reveal how drastic they are. Relatively few persons, because of the late working and eating hours in Berlin, have either desire or opportunity to indulge in spirituous liquors until after the new closing hour.

Secondly, scores of reputable restaurants and cafes now have female employees in place of the waiters who have been drawn into the army and therefore these cafes are barred from making their former profitable sales.

Thirdly, the provision that the liquor must be drunk on the premises deals a blow to a bottle trade that heretofore has assumed considerable proportions, especially in the less pretentious cafes and saloons. Practically the only provision to which there is no objection is that governing sales to drunken persons.

President Von Jagow's suggestion against the restriction of distilled liquors included the provision that none should be sold after 7 p. m., and that only liquor of a comparatively high grade and cost might be dispensed.

The distillers and liquor dealers breathed easier when they heard that the authorities did not favor anything so drastic, but all their hopes vanished when the authorities finally did make public their new regulations. It is asserted on every side that many cafes that do not specialize in beer—the so-called "wine rooms"—will now have to close at 9 instead of 11 or 1 o'clock, and that many of them will have to go out of business.

These cafe proprietors alleged that they cannot understand the new order nor the reasons for it. For months now it has been forbidden to serve soldiers or sailors with distilled liquors, and they say that therefore there is no military need for the rules. They maintain that there is a great sufficiency of liquor for army, medicinal and hospital needs, now.

The final settlement of tribal matters as provided for in the agreement of 1902 cannot be accomplished while the question of the manner of disposing of or of handling the coal and asphalt deposits is unsettled.

"All money now to the credit of the Choctaw tribe, whether on deposit in banks or in the treasury of the United States should be distributed per capita among the enrolled members of the Choctaw tribe.

"Your committee recommends that the principal chief be authorized and requested to appoint, by and with the consent of the senate, two delegates who shall be citizens of the Choctaw nation and whose duty it shall be to assist the principal chief and the national attorney in all tribal matters pending before the department of the interior and congress. We recommend that the expenses and a reasonable per diem while on duty (to be determined by the secretary of the interior) be paid the delegates from funds belonging to the Choctaw tribe."

on hand, so that there is no necessity for extra measures to conserve the supply in this drastic way. Also, they assert with the utmost positiveness that Berlin suffers not at all from any undue indulgence in liquor which would require correction through restriction of the supply.
